Culinary Walk Through Taksim - The Flavours of Grande Rue de Péra

Experience the vibrant food culture of Istanbul's New Town on a culinary walk through Taksim, Beyoğlu and the lively streets of Nevizade. This neighbourhood is a fascinating meeting point of traditional Turkish cuisine, historic confectionery shops, popular street-food stalls and lively dining streets. From the famous wet burger of Taksim to traditional Turkish home cooking, stuffed mussels, regional specialities and the legendary profiterole of İnci Pastanesi, this tour offers a delicious introduction to the flavours of modern Istanbul.

Start your culinary exploration at Taksim Square, where you will taste Istanbul's famous ıslak hamburger (wet burger), a distinctive local street-food favourite served in a soft bun with a rich tomato and garlic sauce. Continue to Hacı Abdullah Lokantası, one of the city's established traditional restaurants, where each guest can choose one main course from a selection of meat, chicken, fish or vegetarian dishes.

Next, discover the colourful world of traditional Turkish sweets at Üç Yıldız Şekerleme, where you will sample an assortment of local confectionery. Make your way towards Nevizade Fish Market to taste stuffed mussels, another much-loved Istanbul street-food speciality. Take a short break in the lively Nevizade neighbourhood and enjoy a traditional Turkish tea or coffee while soaking up the atmosphere of its bustling streets.

Continue to Hayvore Beyoğlu for a taste of mixed Turkish pide, a regional favourite inspired by the culinary traditions of the Black Sea. Afterwards, visit Sabırtaşı to sample içli köfte, a traditional bulgur shell filled with a savoury mixture. Your culinary walk concludes at the famous İnci Pastanesi, where each guest will enjoy an individual portion of its celebrated profiterole, a much-loved classic of Istanbul's dessert culture.
